being sent from Europe, where the leading artists of the United States and the continent were also showing work. At present Mrs. Brigman is engaged in completing a collection of studies to be hung in one of the famous New York galleries this spring.

Mrs. Brigman will be remembered as Miss Annie Nott as she is well known here and related to some of the best families in the Islands. Mrs. Brigman's present home is in Oakland where she resides and has a pretty studio on Thirty-second street.

Chronicle.—The announcement of the committee on art of the Seattle exposition conferring upon Annie W. Brigman the gold medal in her class of work is being received with the deepest gratification by her friends in the art world who have followed her career with interest for the last several years. Mrs. Brigman exhibited a group of seven lens studies, the work of the last summer, at the Seattle fair.

The small collection of the Oakland artist attracted unusual attention and was given an important place in the gallery. Mrs. Brigman yesterday was formally notified by the committee that she had been awarded the coveted honor.

Mrs. Brigman's individual and original work is perhaps better known in New York and in Europe than in California, where she makes her home. Her lens studies have made a distinct place for themselves in the art world and have brought to the gifted Oakland woman recognition of no ordinary kind.

Within the last two years Mrs. Brigman has been awarded several medals where she has exhibited, two of them

THE TIME, THE PLACE, AND THE GIRL.

One night I went to a play that was called "The Time, the Place, and the Girl." And later, as homeward I took my way, My thoughts were in a whirl.

For long ago I had chosen the Girl, But the Time, and the Place, oh dear! Each time that I dared to think of them I was stricken dumb with fear.

But after I saw that play, I thought Of several plans to try. Did ever the plans of mice and men Go any more far awry?

I enticed her first to the hammock, Far out beneath the tree, Hoping the shadows there would keep My courage from leaving me.

I started in bravely about the stars, And then I began to choke; And just as I said, "Will you be my star?" The rope of the hammock broke.

Then I asked if she would go with me To the park, for a little stroll. In a corner I found a secluded bench; Near the spot there was not a soul.

I told her all about that play, And I dared to fondle a curl; I said, "Now, this is the Time and the Place, And you know that you are the Girl."

Right from beneath that bench there appeared An impudent newsie's face— "Say! De Time and de Goil may be all right, But, cheese it, Cull on de Place."

On Tuesday the sixteenth of November in Oakland, California, T. Seymour Hall was married to Miss Ruth Houghton of that city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Houghton of Oakland, and the wedding took place at the new residence which Mr. Houghton has only recently erected on one of the most beautiful residence streets there. The groom is the son of W. W. Hall of this city.

Miss Charlotte V. C. Hall, a sister of the groom, acted as maid of honor to the bride and will accompany the young couple when they arrive on the Manchuia tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will make their future home here and Mr. Hall will take the management of the Associated Garage which is the property of E. O. Hall & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney gave an elaborate dinner party on Thanksgiving Day, at which covers were laid for twenty guests. The table was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and fruits. After dinner, the party motored out to the dance at the Moana. Mr. and Mrs. Tenney's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Billson, Mr. Marens, Billson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson, Mrs. Julia Macfarlane, Doctor Herbert, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mrs. M. E. Tenney, Miss Violet McKee, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holloway, Miss Carolina Brown and Mr. Vernon Tenney.

On Wednesday evening, at their home on Thurston avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Klamp entertained with a dinner, followed by bridge whist. The table decorations were carried out in white and green, and covers were laid for fourteen guests. After the dinner, bridge was played until a late hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Klamp, Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Doctor and Mrs. Lane, U. S. The C. B. Coopers are spending the week-end at their home at Kaalawai, and will return to the city the early part of next week.

Mrs. F. M. Swanzy was the hostess at a charming dinner party on Tuesday at which covers were laid for Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Major and Mrs. Dunning and Judge and Mrs. Woodruff.

News Letter.—Miss Mary Sutton is responsible for the statement that athletics is the best antidote for love and an early marriage. Miss Sutton may be right, of course, or she may have missed something. At any rate, what woman wouldn't prefer to play with her eyes and the heart of a man at inevitable eighteen than be champion anything of the world at any age whatsoever? "Singles" are all right in their way, but "doubles" are what makes the world really worth living in.

Examiner.—The family and immediate friends of Mrs. Harold Dillingham are rejoicing over the fact that she has rallied splendidly from an operation on Friday at the Florence Ward Hospital. Upon her complete recovery, Mrs. Dillingham will join her family in Honolulu.

Examiner.—After a few days at the Fairmont with her mother, Mrs. Milo Potter, Miss Nina Jones is visiting Miss Harriett Alexander at the St. Xavier. The Santa Barbara belle is a welcome visitor, and several pretty affairs are on the tapis for her. Today Miss Maud Wilson will be her hostess at a luncheon, and tomorrow Miss Elizabeth Newhall will entertain in compliment to Miss Jones.

Chronicle.—The gala event on Thursday night was the first concert of the St. Francis Musical Art Society, which was a brilliant social event, and brought together a representative society assemblage. Many striking new gowns were worn by the women present, one of the most conspicuous for its beauty being that of the Princess David Kawannakoa, who wore a gown of black net spangled with silver, the tunic outlined with bands of silver passementerie, made over a foundation of white satin.

Chronicle.—A host of friends of pretty Miss "Peggy" Stow gathered at the dock yesterday to wish her "bon voyage" when the Siberia sailed for Yokohama, where her marriage to Edward Bright Bruce of Manila will take place on November 29. The ceremony will be performed at noon in the picturesque English church in Yokohama and will be a notable event in society there. A number of guests from the diplomatic set in Tokyo will be present, as well as friends in Yokohama, where Miss Stow was much entertained on her recent visit. Mrs. Kate Stow Ealand, who with Mrs. Sherman Stow accompanied Miss Margaret to the Orient, will be her sister's matron of honor, and little Maria Ealand will act as flower girl. Mrs. Sherman Stow will give her daughter into the groom's keeping. The bride's gown is of exquisitely embroidered sheer India muslin and lace and she will wear the conventional veil. The matron of honor will wear an embroidered lingerie costume, and Mrs. Stow's gown is an imported creation of silver gray duchesse satin.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception will follow at the Grand Hotel, and later the young couple will depart on a month's honeymoon trip through Japan before sailing for Manila, where their future home will be.

Mrs. Sherman Stow and Mrs. Ealand will spend several months in Kyoto and later will tour Japan and China. In the spring they will visit Manila.

News Letter.—Three engagements are credited to this week, and all of them are down on the naval register. Miss Lalla Wenzelburger has been won by Lieutenant Shea of the revenue service. Miss Georgiana Potts, daughter of Commodore Potts, of Mare Island, has announced her engagement to Paymaster Everett Mossell, of the Yorktown. Miss Frances Bridges, who makes her home in Los Angeles, with her mother, Mrs. E. C. Hickman, but is equally well-known in San Francisco, is to marry Paymaster Arthur Brown, a nephew of Captain Colman, so popular in San Francisco society.

News Letter.—Miss Alice Macfarlane was the guest of honor at a handsomely appointed dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton in the south side of the Laurel Court of the Fairmont Hotel, Monday evening. Sixteen guests assembled around the beautifully decorated round table.

Chronicle.—Miss Maud Wilson will be hostess at a luncheon and theater party today in honor of Miss Nina Jones of Santa Barbara, who is visiting here from her home in the south.

Chronicle.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton entertained at dinner for Miss Alice Macfarlane of Honolulu, who has been the recipient of much social attention since her arrival a few months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton's guests on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Worthington Ames, Mr. and Mrs. George Newhall, Mrs. Willard Brown, and Miss Enid Gregg.

Chronicle.—Mrs. Uriel Sebree, wife of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, returned yesterday from the Manchuia from Honolulu, where she visited during the stay there of the eight big cruisers that her husband is now putting through their paces in the Far East. She will remain here for a week, a guest at the Fairmont. She will then join her father, Colonel Bridgman, at Coronado, and remain with him until February, when she will return here to meet Admiral Sebree.

Call.—The wedding yesterday of Miss Elizabeth Simpson and Lieut. Harold S. Naylor, U. S. A., took place in New London, Conn., at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Valentine Chappell, but the friends of the young couple in this city sent many congratulatory telegrams. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Col. William A. Simpson, who will return shortly to his duty in this city. Lieutenant Naylor and his bride will enjoy a leisurely tour of the East before their return next month to the Presidio.

Chronicle.—Miss Elsie Consimiller, the charming debutante niece of Mrs. John D. Spreckels, is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibson at their home on Broadway. Much entertaining will be done for Miss Consimiller by her cousins, Mrs. Harry Holbrook and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, who plan to give her a gay winter. The John D. Spreckels mansion will be thrown open for a ball in her honor during the holiday season. Miss Consimiller will not return to her home in Brookline until February.

Chronicle.—Mrs. Milo Potter and Miss Nina Jones of Santa Barbara were Mrs. C. O. Alexander's guests at the St. Francis musical art society concert on Thursday evening.

Commander Albert Gieves of the cruiser St. Louis has been designated as naval aid to Assistant Secretary Winthrop, succeeding Rear-Admiral John Hubbard, who was recently appointed to command the third squadron of the Pacific fleet.

Mason F. Prosser, who left for the mainland on the sixth of this month, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents in Englewood, New Jersey.
